“It is truly a labor of love,” says Lauren Mahakian, a certified dementia practitioner and founder of Family Connect Memory Care. “Caring for a loved one with cognitive decline is all encompassing. Most families that try to do this alone know how difficult and all-consuming it can be –often overcome by stress, guilt, or feelings of inadequacy. In contrast, we offer a family style six-resident home that encourages and celebrates the uniqueness of each of its members. We customize menus and offer activities that focus on the five-senses to promote the stimulation necessary for purposeful and happy lives, filled with art, music, exercise, gardening, cooking, or whichever stimulating activities are appropriate for each resident at their stage of life.” Both the Stimuli and Live Love Art programs referenced are trademarked programs of FCMC. “Some of our residents have always loved baking, gardening, or the arts. We encourage that they continue these with support, as well as the safety guidelines that allow their families to enjoy peace of mind.”

Family Connect Memory Care distinguishes itself by offering
